Why a degree in Criminal Justice, Juvenile Justice from Missouri Valley?

In a hands-on field, experiential learning is essential to preparing you for success. The small class sizes at MVC, offer an intimate learning environment that help you develop critical analytical skills, and knowledge of the research findings and methods used in the field. As a student in our program, you'll build background knowledge in juvenile justice, drugs and the law, probation & parole, developmental psychology, and the laws aimed at constitutional and criminal law. Most of these jobs will require, at minimum, a bachelor's degree. This background will help you develop an awareness of individual rights and practice the proper procedures to focus on the needs of children and their rehabilitation.
